

Brother Alpha

We finally got Brother Alpha over to the Walker Memorial Library to have his picture taken. It was a Large Day. The background in the picture was erected especially for us by the Art in Engineering Corporation, a big combine just formed to build the new Cathedrals of Science for the U. S. S. R. Those aren't really Gothic Arches. They are just Hydraulic Installation, designed along Eddington's Here-Now Lines, projected into the Absolute Future. That is what gives it the religious bend. Brother Alpha was still reading the Steam Tables, as shown in the picture, but he had been doing that a long time and all he seemed to get out of it was Low Blood Pressure. We gradually got him off on the Square Root of Valentine, and finally we had him picking Big Numbers from the New Lines for the week. We beg leave to submit herewith, and contents noted.

Ogden Nash his immortal poetry called Happy Days is something that we guarantee strictly according to sample. Brother Alpha loaned this book to a couple of Physicists, to take home and read by the Fireside, while they would be cracking atoms and drinking hard cider. That is what they were laughing at in the Mathematical Teaparty that time we went by in the hall and thought it was because they had discovered the Nature of the Physical World.

Schnitman his Ask Me Another called How Safe is Life Insurance? Maybe Schnitman is an Unrecognized Bolshevik. He seems to think Executives have sometimes been a little careless. The book slipped in somehow. We don't stock many books on Economics, as a matter of fact, because the Department of Economics doesn't read them. But this one may help Married Students who are planning to give Junior a World Tour at thirty.

Zane Grey, his zippy Hash Knife Outfit is the one where they kidnap little Molly, the bad rustlers do, and him goes after them. This is the thirty-second time that some similar outfit has broken loose in Arizona and points West, and the shooting gets faster every year. The book is stocked specially for Deans and other Big Executives so they can get to sleep nights after a hard day's Dictation.

Sholom Asch his Three Cities, translated out of the Yiddish, takes a little look round Jewish capitalist society in Petersburg, Jewish intellectuals in Warsaw, and the Communist Revolution of 1917 in Moscow. Brother Alpha has decided to Recognize this book, partly on account of Hitler. Of course no one now living will live long enough to finish both this book and Anthony Adverse, but why hang Anthony any longer? Asch spreads out the kingdoms of the world as few now how to do it.

Compton Mackenzie his Water on the Brain was the one that Brother Alpha got most interested in. He was reading there where it said they had poison gas for use in the Next War so deadly if it was dropped on gas-buffers in two-ounce packets by hostile aeroplanes it would turn every living creature within a radius of two hundred miles a vivid pea-green. And said where the League of Nations had published a pamphlet on it. Brother Alpha was interested on account of his eyes being weak from reading the Steam Tables so much and he wrote on to the League to get some. But he got a letter here recently where it said they didn't have that shade at all, and never had looked it.

Editor's Note: The doings of Brother Alpha are being reported by a regular member of the staff by, and through the courtesy of, someone whose name we have promised not to divulge. As can easily be seen, "Brother Alpha's" intermediary is one who in the argot "knows his stuff." The column will be continued as a weekly feature.

Architects' Ball to be Held Next Friday Evening

Rogers Association Anticipates Large Attendance at Second Dance

WERMAN WINS CONTEST

An Architects' Ball will be held by the Rogers Association for students attending the Institute, next Friday evening, December 1, from 9 to 2 o'clock. Like the last Architects' Ball, it will take place at the Boston Architectural Club at 16 Somerset street.

The winners of the poster contest held last week, and the results of which are now on display on the bulletin boards of the Institute, advertising the affair, were Ralph Werman, '37, who won the first prize, a ticket to the ball, Nembhard N. Culin, '34, and Foster R. Jackson, '34, who won the second and third prizes respectively.

Association Increases Their Activities The Rogers Association, which has been the sponsor of more than one event this fall, was organized this year by those architects who felt the need of social activities which would combine the architectural students with the rest of the members of the Institute; such activities are impossible without such an association.

The program of events to be held this year by the association includes many features, such as students' art contests, ping-pong and hand ball tournaments, and several dances. The first event this season was a smoker held in the Commons Room at Rogers, where fifty architects congregated to hear Professor Walker tell of his travels abroad. The association served refreshments after the talk.

The association expects the approaching ball, which is to be of a pre-war nature, to have a large attendance, in view of the reasonable prices of admission.

I. F. C. Holds Ball at Barclay Club

Subscription Limited to 150 Tickets; Price Is $2.75 Each

Ruby Newman's orchestra has been engaged to provide the music at the annual Interfraternity Conference Fall Dance to be held December 8, from 10 to 3 o'clock at the Barclay Club in Boston.

This dance will differ from those in previous years in that it will be held in a night club instead of a hotel as before. Only 150 tickets will be sold, however. The price will be $2.75 a couple.

Dr. and Mrs. Compton, Bursar and Mrs. Ford, Professor and Mrs. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Ross, Professor Jack, Commander and Mrs. Russell, and Dr. and Mrs. Bush have been invited to attend.

Other Fraternity Dances Postponed Several fraternity houses had already announced dances on the same date, but the committee announced that all these were either postponed or called off.

Members of the committee who have tickets for sale are William H. Mills, '34, chairman; Henry D. Furniss, Jr., '36, William B. du Pont, '36, William W. Cross, '35, Scott C. Rethorst, '36, and Henry J. Ogorzaly, '35.

STUDENT TO SPEAK AT WORK COUNCIL

Chik S. Lam, '36, will be one of three speakers at the bi-weekly meeting of the Boston student work council this Wednesday noon. The subject of the speech is to be the relation between American and foreign students. Lam's home is Hong Kong, China, and he will tell of his impressions as a student in America. Of the other two speakers one is a German student, studying at Harvard, and the other is a student from South America, studying at Boston University. The council is a group of people, such as pastors of churches and Y. M. C. A. secretaries, who have student organizations.

Senior Natators Edge Juniors in Swimming Meet

Three-Point Margin Wins for Upper-Classmen; Vaughan and Dodge Star

With both teams fighting bitterly throughout the meet, the Senior swimmers, by virtue of their strength in the distance events, edged the Juniors by three points in the Inter-class meet which concluded last night.

In the heats which were held on Friday night, the closeness of the meet was forecast by the even number of men placed by both teams. The graduating class, although outnumbered by the Juniors in the sprints, concentrated most of their strength in the distances, with Captain Fred Vaughan and Dan Strohmeier certain of the lead in the 440 and 220 free-styles.

Friday's Predictions Verified

When yesterday's finals began, Friday's predictions were generally verified. As the distances were decided by comparative times, Vaughan and Strohmeier took first and second in the 220 and 440, by virtue of their performances on Friday, with Summers of the Juniors carrying off third in both events. This gave the Seniors an early lead of ten points over the class of '35. The victory of Dodge, the freshman star, in both the 50 and 100 yard dashes, brought the class of '37 within a dangerous distance of the Seniors, but the breast and back stroke soon removed all possible chances of a win for the yearlings.

Vonnegut made the only threat of the Sophomores for the meet when he defeated Muller by a narrow margin in the 200 yard breast-stroke, while Antonsen cut down the Seniors' lead with his defeat of Edmonds in the 150 yard back stroke. A victory for the Juniors in the dives, when Paige edged Heywood, the freshman entrant, and the defeat of the Senior medley relay team by the trio of the class of '35, brought the Juniors up so close to the graduating men that the starting gun for the 220 yard free-style relay found the class of '34 holding only a one-point lead over the Juniors.

The final relay was marked by the taking of the first two places by the freshmen and the Sophomores, neither of whom were in possible position to win. The Seniors and Juniors fought it out for third, with the outcome undecided until the last man had touched the end of the pool. The Seniors edging the class of '35 to take third place in the event and victory in the meet.

The meet was exceptionally well conducted, and the entries were of a size which had not been seen in some years, with a total of sixty-two men in the nine events.

The results of the meet are as follows:

50 yard free-style: Dodge '37, Granberg '35, Callan '34, Rutherford '37. Time: 36.0 sec.
100 yard free-style: Dodge '37, Granberg '35, DuRoss '35, Bliss '37. Time: 58.0 sec.
220 yard free-style: Vaughan '34, Strohmeier '34, Summers '35, DuRoss '35. Time: 2:32.7.
440 yard free-style: Vaughan '34, Strohmeier '34, Summers '35, Findlayson '35, Hamilton '36. Time: 5:44.6.

TECH SHOW TO PICK CHORUS NEXT WEEK

Try-Outs Monday and Tuesday to Be in Walker

Tech Show will begin actual production work next Monday and Tuesday evenings by holding chorus try-outs in Walker. The try-outs will begin at 7:30, and will take place in North Hall Monday, and the Gymnasium, Tuesday.

Try-outs will be conducted by Langdon Mathews, professional dance coach of Boston, who will coach all the dances in the show. They are open to all students at the Institute. All those interested in playing the piano at rehearsals should attend one of the two nights.

The cast of Tech Show will not be chosen until some time in January, announced John M. Hitchcock, '34, manager of the show. The actual performance will take place during the Junior Prom week-end, about the middle of March.

Penmanship Fixes Admission Price

Dorm Christmas Dance to Have Graphologist Analyze Girl's Writing

Writing ability of his partner, without regard for her beauty, intelligence, or proficiency in the art of dancing will decide the amount that the escort will be taxed at the informal Christmas dance of the Dormitories to be held in Walker Memorial on December 8, from 9 to 2. The Dorm Dance Committee has secured the services of Herman E. Penn, an expert graphologist, who will be present to analyze the writing of each girl, and to classify it according to its characteristics. Upon this classification will depend the admission price, ranging from $1 to $1.50.

Santa Will Appear

Earle Hanson's Greenwich Village Orchestra from New York has been engaged for the affair and will present several feature novelties. Hanson's Band is widely known, having appeared many times under the direction of Paul Whiteman, famed orchestra leader. Under the present leader, they have entertained several times at the Steel Pier in Atlantic City.

While official announcement is lacking, it has been learned from authentic sources that Mr. S. Claus (usually called Santa) will make a special trip from his icy fastnesses to distribute goodies to the little girls and their escorts.

The calligraphic method of deciding the admission price is somewhat similar to the various novel methods employed by the Dormitories in their dances of previous years. At one of these the weight of the girl was the deciding factor; in another, it was the color of her hair; and in still another, the intelligence of the "date" determined the expenditure to be made by her blushing Tech escort.

Publication Suspended for Thanksgiving Day

There will be no issue of THE TECH on Friday because of the Thanksgiving holiday on the previous day.

GREENLAW STARS IN HANDICAP MEET

Freshman Class Wins Meet With Juniors in Second Place

Although Al Greenlaw of the Juniors and Tom Brown of the Sophomores captured the individual high-scoring honors for the afternoon, the freshman class won the final fall handicap track meet Saturday, with a score of 39. The third-year men counted 22, while the Sophomores were close with one point less.

Three track events and three field events were held, with the 300-yard dash providing the closest performances of the day. Greenlaw, the winner, had a margin of merely inches over Henry Runkel, in fifth place.

Greenlaw Victor in Discus Throw

Greenlaw also was the victor in the discus throw, and to complete his total of thirteen points, he was the runner-up in the shotput. Tom Brown, with a win in the shotput, a third in the broad jump, and a fifth in the discus event, chalked up a score of nine, to give the next best individual performance.

The summary:

300-yard dash—Won by Greenlaw, '35 (8 ft.); second, Houghton, '37 (5 ft.); third, Sabi, '37 (3 ft.); fourth, Saatz, '37 (3 ft.); Runkel, '36 (ser.). Time—33 3/4 secs.

600-yard run—Won by Cooper, '37 (18 yds.); second, Roberts, '37 (15 yds.); third, Sousa, '35 (ser.); fourth, Moffert, '37 (20 yds.); fifth, Blair, '35 (40 yds.). Time—1 min. 27 1/2 sec.

1 1/4 mile run—Won by J. Talbert, '35; (ser.); second, Blair, '35 (100 yds.); third, Haines, '36 (75 yds.). Time—6 min. 11 1/2 secs.

Techtonians Are Repudiated by Musical Clubs

Band's Use of Professionals Is Cause of Severing of Relations

ASSOCIATION FOR 7 YEARS

The Combined Musical Clubs have severed all connections with the Techtonians, Ralph B. Woolf, '35, publicity manager of the clubs, announced yesterday. This concludes seven years of the Techtonians' association with the clubs.

The reason for this action was given by Edgar B. Chiswell, '34, manager of the clubs, as the employment of professional musicians in the band. There has been considerable dissension in the past between the clubs and the band. The name "Techtonians" will be turned back to the Institute Committee, which has the right to assign its use.

Larrabee Heads Own Band

It is expected the Herbert Larrabee, '34, who was the leader of the Techtonians, will continue to conduct an orchestra under another name, Woolf declared.

No professional orchestra is expected to participate in the Christmas concert, the "Pops" concert, or other presentations of the Musical Clubs in the immediate future, Woolf stated. The Christmas concert will be held on December 15. Publicity for the concert has utilized the initials C. M. C. C. on posters in the Institute halls.

Tickets for the Christmas concert will be offered at two dollars per couple, this price being set from one to two dollars lower than previous ones as an appeal to the commuters.

The Glee Club was presented Sunday evening at the Trinity Church Parish House at Copley Square to an audience which, the club feels, welcomed and appreciated the presentation.

Stickmen Oppose Terriers Monday

Starting Line-up Not Announced as Yet; Veterans Will Probably Begin

With Coach Vic Duplin out of town, the starting lineup for the opening hockey game next Monday night against Boston University is still unknown. The team will not be chosen until the end of the week when Duplin returns.

Practice up to this time has been concentrated on the fundamentals of the game, passing, and defense, and the men have also been through a few scrimmages. The varsity squad, which numbers now about twenty men, will hold its next practice Wednesday morning, while the freshmen are holding their initial practice on the ice this morning.

Veterans Expected to Start

The starting lineup against the Terriers will probably consist entirely of veterans, chosen from among Captain Frank Millikan as goalie, Paul Daley, center, Ranny Thompson, regular wing, and Dave Mathias, Hal Reynolds, and Ed Sylvester, veteran defense men.

GOVERNMENT WILL BUILD SEADROME

Commerce Department Offers One-Half Million Dollars

The department of Commerce has announced the appropriation of one and one-half million dollars for the construction of an experimental seadrome to be anchored several hundred miles off the Atlantic coast.

When completed the air island will be subjected to rigid tests with a view of establishing a string of ocean stepping stones at an estimated expenditure of $30,000,000. If successful they will be placed at intervals of 500 miles between the United States and Spain and will be used by the government for a commercial transatlantic air service.

HANDBALL SITUATION

THERE has been considerable adverse comment lately on the action taken by the Walker Memorial Committee in taking one of the handball courts for use as office space. The committee decided that Technique needed more office space and Tech Show needed a separate office.

Since there were three handball courts already and it was absolutely necessary for office space to be obtained from somewhere, one of the courts has been remodeled into two offices, Voo Doo and Technique each receiving one. Tech Show will move into the old Voo Doo office. John B. Dunning, '34, chairman of the committee, also stated that sooner or later it would probably become necessary to convert the remainder of the courts into offices as the activities of the Institute expand. At this space for courts will have to be found elsewhere.

P. T. FOR ALL

OVER emphasis of athletics is one defect that is most certainly not present in the much maligned educational system of the Institute. It has been demonstrated repeatedly that teams from Technology cannot compete with other schools of the same size. To an outsider it might appear that the difficult work at the Institute was responsible—that the Institute athletes could not afford time off from their studies for practice. This is only part of the truth as anyone who has engaged in any Institute sport must realize.

Nearly every squad at the Institute is under-manned. Even large squads such as track do not have a large number of men who turn out consistently day after day. The freshman squads as a whole do not suffer from the lack of men due to the system of P. T. substitution. This is clearly an indication that there is a lack of time for sports rather than a lack of interest. The freshmen who have a regularly scheduled time for athletics turn out for sports in large numbers. The schedule is shortened only two hours a week in order to include P. T. Why not include P. T. in the schedule of all students?

FACTS VERSUS UNDERSTANDING

WE HAVE come to expect, like some hardy perennial, the yearly statement of some educator that tests prove the average senior to be as ignorant or even more ignorant than the average freshman. From this he reasons that the system now in vogue is of no value and recommends another method of college education which he hopes will impart a little more knowledge to the illiterate Senior.

Of course it is impossible to forecast the results of a radical teaching method, but even supposing that it succeeds in its objective of making the Senior a larger warehouse of facts, is such an objective worth while?

Can any test be designed which will accurately measure the extent of a man's knowledge, and even more important, can it judge the relative importance of facts? It is true that Arabs eat grasshoppers, it is a fact that the Civil War began on Monday, or was it Thursday? But what of it?

Unquestionably the average Senior is a more mature person than he was four years previously. Partly that is due to a normal process of growth, partly to his four years of mental training.

The effect of exercise is not so much to increase the number of things a man can do with his muscles as it is to better the performance of an act. The track coach does not teach his squad many ways of running, but strives to increase each individual's speed and endurance.

And in education as opposed to training the aim is to impart wisdom rather than knowledge. A too great knowledge of details often leads one to attack a problem by following precedent where a more fluid command of principle would lead to a closer adaptation to special needs and greater resourcefulness in the face of unusual difficulties.

Mood

I wonder what the magic loom
Could spin that golden hair, shimmering tress on tress,
And what the classic clay to mould
That form, beneath the sheen of your dress.

When on your lips that elfin madness
burns,
And in your eyes the flickering flame
of Fate,
Something deep within me twists and yearns

And
I think you use too much lipstick.

After the Dance

"Ah," said the young lady, looking very arch indeed, "Do you know everything then?"

We drifted elegantly, arm in arm, to the punch bowl, brimming with its fragrant potion. But as I contemplated those witching features, and the sound of that voice lingered melodiously in my ears, I seemed to hear the murmur of a sea, an entire ocean of such voices, and in my eyes was a vast procession of arch and provocative faces, drifting through the centuries, the eternal Female saying brightly to the eternal Male,
"My, aren't you clever!"
"Well," I told her hastily, "only once in a while."

VI-A Men Spend Time at Game of Sea Battles

Course VI-A is reputed to be one of the courses of the Institute which requires a large amount of time in studying. However, we have heard of one case where two of them had nothing to do but play a game called sea battles.

Each of the contestants marks out for himself a square of one hundred compartments, some of which he calls boats, and marks them off. The other admiral does likewise. Then the two of them exchange volleys at random, attempting to hit one of the boats. In order that the opponent may not see where the other man's boats are located, the square is indexed along the edges.

The victory is obtained only after each and every boat on the sea is entirely filled with shots. The scores which resulted from an hour and a half of violent shelling turned out to be a complete victory for one of the contestants, with two wins and a tie.

UNDERGRADUATE NOTICE

Although a notice was published in THE TECH recently to the effect that a disinterested person would select the proofs to be printed in Technique of those men who did not return their proofs to Mr. Vantine's secretary last week, only 250 out of 395 actually returned them. Technique will give those who have delayed another chance, however. Seniors who have not yet returned their proofs may take them or send to the Vantine Studios before Friday, December 1st. CIGARETTES are made of tobacco, wrapped in paper, and they may look alike; but that doesn't mean that they are alike.

Chesterfield Cigarettes are not like other cigarettes. The tobacco is not like the tobacco used in other cigarettes. It is mild, ripe—not harsh, or strong.

STAFF AT ROGERS
HOLDING EXHIBIT

Students and instructors of Technology have an opportunity to see how the staff of the architectural department spends its spare time. The staff is now holding an exhibition of work done by its members in leisure moments.

The exhibition contains drawings, sketches, etchings, lithographs, water colors, models, and other architectural endeavors.

The presence of the students and faculty is earnestly requested by the staff. The exhibit is being held in room 15 of the Rogers building.

RKO KEITH'S

Little Women

A picture not at all underrated by the extravagant notices from the New York press. Miss Hepburn, dashing, daring, filled with the joi de vivre, quite captivates the audience. If for no other reason than to see this sparkling portrayal of the part of Jo, should one see this picture. One dares not miss it.

Although the story is almost too full of tears in parts, the picture has clung to the original except for the omission of a few minor details. The original Jo, just as you have always seen her, literally flashes across the screen.

It's up to every citizen to keep his head when repeal comes, warns a Washington professor. It is indeed! Besides, if he doesn't, he may wake up next morning and find that he has one about twice as big as he had the night before.—Boston Traveller.

According to the University of Arizona Institute of family relations, one out of every six marriages ends in divorce, while only one out of every seventy-five made in colleges crashes.

IT TAKES HEALTHY NERVES TO BE A FOOTBALL REFEREE

M. J. ("MIKE") THOMPSON,
FAMOUS FOOTBALL REFEREE

IF YOU WANT TO SEE nerve strain, look at "Mike" Thompson's job—refereeing two tons of football brawn. "Mike" Thompson has been a steady smoker for years. "I'm open-minded on cigarettes," he says, "but I've got to keep my nerves in shape, so I stick to Camels."

Steady Smokers turn to Camels

M. J. ("Mike") Thompson, football's most famous referee, has to keep his nerves healthy. He says:

"Because nothing can be allowed to interfere with healthy nerves I smoke Camels. I have tried them all—given every popular brand a chance to show what it can offer. Camels don't upset my nerves even when I smoke constantly. And the longer I smoke them, the more I come to appreciate their mildness and rich flavor."

Many smokers who have changed to Camels report that their nerves are no longer irritable... "jumpy." Switch to Camels yourself. You will find that Camels do not jangle your nerves—or tire your taste.
